Who We Are

Over Eighteen Years of Experience with Dementia and Alzheimer's Care

SureHealth Senior Living offers a full range of assisted living services that are carefully planned to provide a supportive environment for residents with dementia and individuals who need assisted living care during their elderly years. Our residential care focuses on Alzheimer's disease, stroke, Parkinson's and other dementia related diseases that result in memory loss.

Our staff is composed of trained and experienced caregivers who care for residents with memory impairments. They possess special skills in the area of behavioral interventions. Each resident will have a prepared personalized care plan that builds on their strengths, enhances positive self-image and promotes the highest level of independence they can practice. As much as possible, we will provide them the care that will make each day a meaningful experience.

We focus more on their ability to maintain a quality life rather than on the memory deficiencies they go through with. Our assisted living services must be administered by competent caregivers and health care practitioners; that is why we require staff that are trained and certified in:

- ✔ Medication Management
- ✔ First Aid
- ✔ CPR
